Budget breakdown: Explanatory note

The above provided budget lines are to be adjusted by the tenderer according to the requirements of his organisation and methodology.

I. UNIT RATES

A. Fees

All fee rates must cover:

- the remuneration actually paid to the experts concerned per working day
- administrative costs of employing the relevant experts, accommodation, allowances, leave, medical insurance and other employment benefits accorded to the experts by the supplier
- the margin, covering the supplier's overheads, profit and backstopping facilities

B. Other direct costs

Per diems can be repaid for missions carried out by the contractor's authorised experts entailing overnight stays outside the normal place of posting. The per diem is a flat-rate fee to cover daily subsistence costs. These include accommodation, meals, tips and local travel. Taxi fares are therefore covered by the per diem.

Per diems are payable on the basis of the number of nights spent on site by the contractor's authorised experts for missions carried out outside the normal place of posting.

Travel expenses include bus/ferry fares, air tickets or vehicle hire/mileage.
